Aid for Mother of Seven.

Attention was called yesterday to Case No. 3 that of a widow, who is now in the sunset years of her life, but who, nevertheless, is making a struggle to keep together the family, which she has been called upon to support since the death of her husband. There are seven children, the youngest seven months, and the eldest fourteen years, and the little woman, struggling along as best she can with her family, has been called to the notice of the Associated Charities, and for her through The Times-Dispatch Relief Fund, aid is being sought.

The Associated Charities of Richmond is anxious that this mother may keep her little ones in the home, and that they may go along as they ought, to be good and upright citizens.

"It is an attractive little group of youngsters," Dr. James Buchanan, secretary of the Associated Charities, said yesterday, "and it is a family, with a good mother, that is due them. In an hour or two the oldest will be able to work, and the income will help considerably toward the support of the family. The father of the family was killed in an industrial accident a year ago, and left a widow with seven children, and a few dollars, however, large or small, will be a most worthy case, if given to this little widow."

REGULAR ARMY MUST BE RAPIDLY RECONSTRUCTED

Secretary Baker Urges 18,000 Officer Corps Before Senate Military Committee.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Rapid reconstruction of the regular army is necessary "that we may have regularly organized troops in the country," Secretary Baker told the Senate Military Committee today, urging the department's request for an authorized officer corps of 18,000.

"This is important," he said, "because there is very little national guard in the country."

General March, Chief of Staff, said the army was ahead of schedule in demobilization, adding that appropriations for the year had cut even the hospital service until the sick could not be properly cared for. The army was down to 500,000 by today's reports, he said.

The department has always planned for a separate air service and not to return it to the signal corps, both officials said. It would be a crime, General March said, to return to the "little handful of men and planes" of pre-war times.

Later the committee ordered a favorable report on the bill providing for 18,000 officers.

"We are deeply grieved at this," the letter continues, "as a Polish Jew (it is an insult to our country) and as Israelites, since the hopes we had formed concerning our relations at home have become vain. We appeal to your consciences to remove this restrictive clause."
